Testimonials

“The Nukshuk app provides accountability and reinforcement that helps me stay on track and develop the habits necessary to achieve the goals I have for myself. Using the app, I’ve lost and kept off 30 lbs, learned to play the ukulele, increased my fluency in a foreign language, improved my delegation skills and developed meditation and gratitude habits that positively impact my overall health and wellness. The daily interaction and weekly reflections help maintain my focus on what is most important and the work I need to do to get there.” —Michelle F.

“I’ve been looking for an app that has awesome goal and habit tracking. I finally found one that’s easy to navigate and has analytics that help me measure my progress. This app is performing beyond my expectations.” —Cody S.

“This app has reinforced my habits and allowed me to track my progress. Having the ability to share my data and get positive reinforcement or a nudge to do better is so valuable. Love finishing my day with this app and tracking my goals!” —Karen P.

Nukshuk is currently available on the App Store for iOS and will be coming soon to the Google Play store for Android devices.
